

GRUMPY PANTS - A fork throwing comedy for the whole family.

Coming from Spain, Kiki Vita will present his solo show Grumpy Pants, at The Free Sisters in the Gothic Room as part of The Edinburgh Fringe Festival. A 45 minute children's show, that is designed to entertain parents alongside kids, with a mix of perfectly crafted juggling routines, clowning, physical comedy and fork throwing.

Imagine classical knife throwing but with forks.

Grumpy Pants invites the audience into an eccentric world, where they can witness everyday objects such as suitcases, glasses of water, toilet plungers and frisbees are brought to life in experimental juggling routines.

A bizarre and funny character Grumpy Pants communicates through his expressive rubber skin, words and sounds and the fourth wall is broken from beginning to end, as the audience, both children and adults, are encouraged to be part of the show from the moment they enter.

Contact juggling is brought to life with the use of a specially made table, that is incorporated into the routine, and a bubble machine. Grumpy Pants finishes with a highly skilled fork throwing finale act that brings delight to everyone in the audience.

Kiki is an experienced and versatile performer that is able to connect with children of all ages. A proud self proclaimed 'professional stupid', he is dedicated to exploring the stupidity in everything and the everyday. He has performed in over 25 countries including Kosovo, Kuwait and Fiji.

*"His generous and warm-hearted clowning doesn't falter for a minute... Mr Vita is a consummate professional and charismatic performer who can entertain the whole family." The Circus Diaries

*"Brilliant! Kids loved it, parents loved it..." Neil Ferguson, happy parent
